Tragedy at Barn Mead

Reports by Chris Moss, Vicky Lane

All we could hear were

CLOSE UP: A police forensics officer at work in the house yesterday (Wednesday) morning. Right, the scene of the tragedy

HARLOW is a town in mourning this week as the community struggles to come to terms with the tragic deaths of four young children and their mother following a suspected arson attack on their family home.

And the question on everyone's lips is - why?

Sabah Usmani (44), daughter Hira (12) and sons Sohaib (11), Muneeb (9) and Rayyan (6) all lost their lives after a devastating fire tore through their end-of-terrace house in Barn Mead in the early hours of Monday.

A fourth child - three-year-old Maheen - is currently battling for her life in Broomfield Hospital, Chelmsford, after being rescued from the burning building by firefighters. As the Star went to press yesterday (Wednesday), she remained in a "critical but stable" condition.

The children's father, Dr Abdul Shakoor (45), also survived the blaze. He is recovering in the same hospital after suffering severe smoke inhalation and minor burns while making a desperate attempt to save his family.

An inquest was opened yesterday at which the cause of death of all five victims was provisionally given as burns and smoke inhalation.

Deputy coroner Eleanor McGann formally opened and adjourned the inquests. The victims' bodies are due to be released either later today or tomorrow morning.

Coroner's officer Laura Howarde said: "The fire service rescued the family, apart from Dr Shakoor, from the building and they were taken to Princess Alexandra Hospital. Despite medical intervention they were confirmed deceased during the morning of October 15. Dr Shakoor provided identification."

Post mortems were carried out by two Home Office pathologists - Dr Ben Swift and Dr Nat Carey - at PAH.

Essex Police and Essex County Fire & Rescue Service have launched a major investigation into the cause of the blaze, which is being treated as a suspected arson attack.

The quiet neighbourhood where the family had lived for just over a year has been left reeling by the tragedy.

Neighbour Jennifer Pavey (21), whose family home backs onto the victims' house, said residents living on the estate were distraught.

"To have something like this happen not only in my hometown but in my own neighbourhood is devastating," she said.

"When I heard that the mother and children hadn't pulled through I just burst into tears. It is so hard to even talk about it, everyone around here is in a state of shock."

Ms Pavey said her family had been woken by noises coming from the Shakoor family home before watching in horror as the tragedy unfolded.

"I started to hear noises like someone shouting, although it was muffled at first," she said. "I thought maybe it was someone being attacked, though of course had no idea how serious it would turn out to be."

"It then became clear that it was people calling for help, both male and female voices. I went outside my room and met my mother who had also been woken up by the screams."

"We both went downstairs and opened the kitchen door - the whole room had been lit up by the flames from the house. All we could hear were screams of 'help us, help us'."

Tragedy at Barn Mead

called the emergency services but was told they were already on their way.

"We went outside and all my neighbours were also outside, people from further down. Nobody could believe it, we were all just in shock," said Ms Pavay.

"We stayed back a bit. The emergency services had arrived by then so there wasn't much we could do. It's hard to know what to do in that situation. We didn't want to get in the way and make things worse."

Another neighbour, who asked to remain anonymous, said she had been woken by the sound of a woman screaming for help.

"I got up thinking that maybe it was a domestic incident at first but then saw the thick black smoke when I looked out the window.

"She was screaming for help and I called the emergency services, but they had already been informed by then.

"Two men were also outside the house, shouting. Then I suddenly saw the flames coming out from the windows and it was just like an inferno. The whole thing just went up. It was absolutely terrifying."

Dr Shakoor, who works as an endocrinologist at Princess Alexandra Hospital, is understood to have escaped the inferno by jumping out of a rear window after battling in vain to get his wife and children out of the house.

Firefighters attending the blaze managed to pull all six remaining family members from the building, who were then taken by ambulance to PAH.

Sabah – also a qualified doctor – her daughter Hira and sons Sohaib and Rayyan were declared dead soon after arrival. Muneeb and Maheen were taken to intensive care.

Muneeb died later the same day, but Maheen remains in a critical but stable condition after being transferred to the specialist Burns Unit at Broomfield Hospital in Chelmsford.

Her father, who was being treated at PAH for severe smoke inhalation and minor burns, asked to be transferred to Chelmsford on Tuesday to be near his daughter.

He is understood to be receiving round-the-clock care and support from specialist staff and is said to be "inconceivable".

David Johnson, Chief Fire Officer for Essex, said temperatures inside the building had reached upwards of 1,000 degrees.

"Firefighters arrived to extremely difficult conditions and got all six people out," he said. "This was an exceptional fire with 1,000 degree temperatures and our people did a fantastic job to do everything they could to rescue and revive those children."

"We believe the fire started on the ground floor and we are using sniffer dogs now to see if any flammable liquids were used.

"The house has been gutted. There is nothing left downstairs so it will take some time to establish how the fire started."

He added that crews had been left traumatised by the scale of the tragedy.

"We are firefighters; any fire where life is lost is traumatic," he said. "A high loss of life with children is especially upsetting."

"We will make sure our people get the support they need to get through this."

Originally from Karachi, Pakistan, the Shakoor family lived in Saudi Arabia – where the children were born – for more than a decade before coming to the UK.

According to neighbours they moved to Barn Mead just over a year ago.

Scores of floral tributes, teddy bears and toys have been left near their home, which has remained cordoned off all week as police and forensics officers continue to examine the house and street.

A mobile police unit has also been set up in the neighbourhood to assist with the investigation.

Detectives have said there is currently no evidence to suggest the fire was the result of a racially-motivated attack and have played down rumours it was started by a serial arsonist.

A Ford Focus belonging to a neighbour of the Shakoor family was also damaged in a suspected arson attack at around the time of the house fire and has been taken away by police for further examination.

Detective Superintendent Luke Collison said: "The major investigation we have now commenced will be meticulous, dealing with a very complicated and serious course of events."

"We are at the moment painstakingly going through all the information and are remaining totally open-minded as to what was behind the incident."

Tragedy at Barn Mead

Reports by Chris Moss, Vicky Lane

Messages of condolence

Below are some of the comments of readers in response to the tragedy

I am thinking of the family and the girl who is still in hospital. My daughter spent 8 months in Broomfield Hospital when she got 80 per cent burns in a house fire about 13 years ago when she was just under 2 years old. Also for the people who have died in this fire. R.I.P.

Very sad news indeed. Words are simply not enough to describe this tragedy.

I am absolutely appalled and saddened that such a thing can still take place in this day and age. The children in this family would probably have gone on to be valuable members of society, helping others through medicine like their parents did. I cannot even imagine what the husband/father must be going through right now. My heart truly goes out to him and his little girl who I really hope pulls through.

What a waste of life. Beautiful people gone for no reason. My heart goes out to you. R.I.P.

Very sad day in Harlow. Hira was in my daughter's year at school. My thoughts are with the family at this sad, devastating time. R.I.P.

So sad to think that anyone could hurt these innocent people. R.I.P darlings.

Woke up to hear this on the news. So sad. Thoughts are with the family and friends at this very sad time. May you all rest in peace.

I'm truly gutted by this. I can't imagine what this man is going through.

Can't believe this. Such sad news, my thoughts with their family.

I feel sick, what devastating news. Peace be with them all!

We are deeply saddened by this terrible news. Our thoughts are with the family and we pray for the two who are fighting hard in hospital. Stay strong and keep on fighting.

My thoughts and prayers are with all involved, and pray that the injured survive.

A terrible tragedy, words are not enough.

'In the history of Essex there been an incident

POLICE have pledged to use "whatever resources are necessary" to establish the cause of Monday's fatal house fire.

Speaking at a press conference on Monday afternoon, Assistant Chief Constable Gary Beautridge, head of the Essex and Kent Serious Crime Directorate, told reporters the fire was one of the most tragic incidents ever dealt with by his force.

"In the history of Essex Police seldom has there been an incident of this gravity in which five people, four of them children, have lost their lives," he said.

"With the tragic nature of this incident at the forefront of our minds, I pledge to use whatever resources are necessary to find out exactly what has happened and, if appropriate, bring those responsible to justice.

"To that end I can tell you that we have launched a major crime investigation to determine the facts surrounding this tragedy."

Since the fire in the early hours of Monday morning, teams of police officers and forensic experts have remained at the site to conduct painstaking examinations of the scene.

It is believed the blaze, which police are referring to as an "isolated incident", may have been started deliberately using a type of fuel or other accelerant.

A Ford Focus parked in the street was also found burnt out a short distance from the house. Although this has led to speculation that a serial arsonist was responsible, this has been "categorically" ruled out by police.

However, detectives have said they will continue to examine reports of deliberate car fires in the area.

They have also stressed there is currently no evidence to suggest the incident was a result of a racially-motivated attack but have hinted one line of inquiry is that the family were not the intended targets of the attackers.

ACC Beautridge urged members of the public to assist with the investigation. A mobile police unit has been set up in the neighbourhood to provide residents with round-the-clock access to investigating officers.

"We fully appreciate the local community will be devastated by what has happened; you never expect such a catastrophic incident to occur in your neighbourhood," he added.

"However, we do believe the answers to this inquiry could lie within the community of Harlow, who we are encouraging to come forward and speak with us.

"What is clear at this stage is that this could potentially be a long-running scene investigation which will no doubt disrupt the local community.

"Given the nature of our investigation we are confident local residents will be understanding and we thank you in advance for your support."

Anyone with any information about either the house or car fire, or who remembers seeing anyone in the area during the early hours of Monday morning, is urged to contact police on 101, Crimestoppers on 0800 555111 or speak to the officers at the mobile policing unit in Barn Mead.

Tragedy at Barn Mead

police seldom has of this gravity...'

HARLOW'S close-knit community has pulled together to pay tribute to the victims of Monday's fire.

Scores of floral tributes, teddy bears and toys have been left near the scene of the blaze in Barn Mead, while relatives, family friends and community leaders have lined up to pay their respects to the Shakoor family.

Dr Purnami De Silva, a friend and work colleague of Dr Abdul Shakoor, visited the neighbourhood on Tuesday to lay flowers near the scene of the tragedy. She said Dr Shakoor, who battled in vain to save his family, was "inconsolable".

"Everyone is feeling unfathomable shock," she said. "I know him personally and it is difficult to comprehend the gravity of what's gone on."

"As you would expect he is inconsolable, as anybody who is a father or husband whose family have suddenly been taken away would be. It is a difficult time."

She added: "One of the things I would like to reflect on is that he was recently showing a photograph of when the Olympic torch came through Harlow. His whole family went down and he showed me firstly to see how happy his family were and secondly to say how much pride he had felt in his community of Harlow, and the sense of pride in the country and the sense of belonging. He said it showed Britain at its best."

"It's devastating to find that we are now under the circumstances where perhaps the country is being shown at its worst."

Princess Alexandra Hospital has opened a book of condolence in the hospital's chapel to allow staff and visitors to pay their respects to the family, and there are plans to hold a multi-faith service of remembrance later this week.

Melanie Walker, chief executive of the PAH NHS Trust said: "The hospital is deeply saddened by the tragic circumstances which have occurred. Our thoughts are with Dr Shakoor and his family at this very difficult time."

"Our staff, including many colleagues and friends of Dr Shakoor, have been offered support to deal with this terrible incident."

Dr Shakoor's sons Sohaib, Muneeb and Rayyan all attended Abbotswood School, which is less than 40 yards from the family home. Headteacher Lesley Lynn said staff and pupils were struggling to come to terms with the tragedy.

"Everyone at the school is distraught to learn of the horrible tragedy that has hit the Shakoor family," she said. "Sohaib, Muneeb and Rayyan were all pupils at the school and were intelligent and sociable children with a good sense of humour, good at sports and much loved by everyone."

"This is obviously a very distressing time for all our pupils and staff and we are working with specialist officers at Essex County Council who are assisting the school with the appropriate support needed to help staff and pupils come to terms with this."

The family regularly attended the Harlow Islamic Centre in Paringdon Road. On Tuesday evening members prayed for three-year-old Maheen, who remains in a critical condition in hospital.

Chairman Ajaib Hussain told the Star the centre would be holding a special sermon and prayer session on Friday afternoon at 1pm when members of the public could show their support for the family.

"We would like to offer our heartfelt condolences to the family and friends of Dr Shakoor," he said. "We are deeply saddened and shocked by this tragedy in which his wife and four children died."

"Dr Shakoor and his family are very much loved and respected in the local community. This loss of life will be felt throughout Harlow and the UK."

"Our thoughts and prayers are with the family. We cannot even begin to imagine the pain and sorrow they are suffering."

"We have continued to offer special prayers for the family throughout each and every day. We request that everyone remember them in their prayers, especially little Maheen who is still fighting for her life."

Members of St James and St Luke Church, in Perry Road, have also been praying for the family, inviting members of the public to light a candle in memory of the victims.

Parishioner Teresa Doherty said: "It is a gesture open to everybody and anybody irrelevant of their religion or if they follow any religion at all."

"It is just a small way to commemorate the lives of those little angels and their beautiful mother, and most importantly to show that we care."

Harlow MP Robert Halfon has been working behind the scenes with the Foreign Office to arrange visas for members of Dr Shakoor's family so they can fly to the UK to attend the funerals of their loved ones.

He said his "thoughts and prayers" were with the family's friends and relatives.

"My heart goes out to the family and their relatives and friends; this is a terrible tragedy," he said. "I think everyone in Harlow, regardless of their faith or background, will be praying for the family."

"We have a strong community in Harlow and we should now all pull together to help the family and our town deal with this horrific incident."

Councillor Mark Wilkinson, leader of Harlow Council, said the council would be opening a book of condolence in Harlow Civic Centre where residents could pay their respects to the family.

"Our heart goes out to the family and friends of those affected by this tragic fire," he added. "I know people in the Harlow community will support each other at this time and the council will also do all it can to support the family and the local community as they come to terms with this loss."

Family friend Parvez Hamid said: "I have no idea why such a thing would happen to such a nice family. We just can't comprehend it."

"Some of my children went to the same school and they used to play together. They used to come over to our house and my children used to go over to their house."

Harlow & District Football League has announced that there will be a minute's silence before all games kicking off on Sunday as a mark of respect.

Advice centre 'on brink of closure'

THE future of Harlow's Welfare Rights & Advice Service has been thrown into doubt after councillors threatened to pull the plug on funding.

HWRA trustees have told the Star the service could be "closed in days" because the council is unwilling to give the not-for-profit organisation more time to pay off debts accrued due to a temporary cash flow problem.

Under existing funding arrangements, the council covers the cost of staff salaries and payroll services each month before being reimbursed by the service using funds secured from other external sources.

But owing to an unexpected shortfall this month, HWRA has been unable to pay the full amount owed to the authority for October – and the council is refusing to give the service more time to stump up the cash.

Les Coben, acting chair of the trustees, said he was "incredibly disappointed" with the situation.

"I am very concerned for the future of Harlow residents who, in this period of recession and escalating crisis, will find themselves in difficulty with nowhere to turn to for

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

specialist help and advice," he said.

"I believe the current action by the council is unhelpful as it will lead to further financial difficulties, not just for the hundreds of clients on the advice centre's books and the thousands who are seen every year by HWRA, but also for the local authority itself.

"Closure of the service will cost the council additional money and will lead to the cancellation of existing external funding which makes up the majority of the service's income."

Mr Coben said the service had offered to pay off the bulk of the October payments, with the remaining third to be paid by December.

"The council appears to have decided to discontinue its practice of allowing reasonable time to pay monies due," he said "Without an emergency change of heart by its decision-makers, the outlook is bleak."

Founded in the early 1970s, HWRA has provided thousands of Harlow residents with expert legal and financial advice. It last came under threat of closure in 2009 when the then Conservative-led council voted to slash its funding, leading Labour and Liberal Democrat councillors to urge the authority to reconsider.

HWRA then took the council to the High Court where a judge ordered the authority to rethink the scale of the proposed cutbacks. Although the service was still forced to reduce its opening hours and cut the number of staff working at the advice centre, it has managed to struggle on since with the support of a National Lottery grant and funding from national charities.

But council leader Mark Wilkinson said the authority was owed a "significant" amount of money by the service and had not been able to come to an agreement over payment.

"The administration took over the contract in place at the time of the election and it was for HWRA to meet the requirements of that contract," he said. "It's a really difficult situation which the council, through a scrutiny committee review and extensive contact with HWRA, has tried to resolve."

"We have a duty to protect taxpayers' money."

Show goes on as weather forces drama group indoors

YOUNG members of a performing arts charity gave their creative skills a workout during a theatre workshop.

Representatives of weight management company LighterLife joined forces with leaders of inclusive drama school Razed Roof to help it stage a one-off performance as part of a 'Creativity in the Garden' day.

Originally arranged to take place in the Mark Hall Gardens at Harlow Museum to mark its revamp by LighterLife volunteers the previous week, bad weather forced a change of venue and the event was instead held at the Science Alive studios in Harlow Leisurezone.

"It was amazing to work with children from Razed Roof and I think everyone was really overwhelmed by how much they enjoyed the day," said LighterLife spokeswoman Lucy Northmore.

"More LighterLife members and Harlow MP Robert Halfon joined us at the end of the day to watch the final show and were all very impressed."

Communities can reap rewards of courts' payback punishments

PROBATION service chiefs in Essex are encouraging groups in Harlow to make offenders pay for their crimes by nominating projects to benefit from the Community Payback scheme.

Previously known as community service and community punishment, the scheme punishes offenders for the crimes they have committed by making them carrying out unpaid work in the local area in their own time.

The programme, which is now in its 40th year, is designed to be mutually beneficial for helping to rehabilitate offenders while making a positive difference to the local community.

"Over the years the scheme run by Essex Probation has saved deserving causes a lot of money," said director Pete Mangan.

"While this is predominantly a punishment for crimes committed, we also take a long-term view that the more people in work, the fewer crimes will take place in future."

Mark Hall and Netteswell Community Association, Holy Cross Primary School and St Mary Magdalene Church in Potter Street have already made use of the scheme, while Harlow Council put some of those taking part to work renovating the town's paddling pools.

Mr Mangan added: "Offenders working around the county have not only made a big difference to charities, churches, individuals and local councils, but have on the whole taken their punishment, done the hard work and learned some skills that will help them in a difficult jobs market."

Man dies after being hit by airport express train

A MAN has died after being struck by an express train near Harlow Town station.

The incident happened at about 8.25am on Monday on a stretch of track near Parndon Mill Lane.

The 25-year-old victim, who has yet to be formally identified by police but is believed to come from Harlow, was killed instantly after being hit by the 8am London-bound Stansted Express service.

Paramedics from the East of England Ambulance Service attended the incident along with officers from British Transport Police but the man was declared dead at the scene.

Detectives are not treating his death as suspicious.

A spokesman for British Transport Police said: "Enquiries are ongoing to establish the identity of the man and inform his family. A file will then be prepared for the coroner."

The incident caused long delays for commuters heading to and from London in the morning rush-hour. Buses replaced trains between Bishop's Stortford and Broxbourne, but some commuters were stuck on board trains for up to two hours as the Greater Anglia route ground to a halt.

Normal service was eventually resumed by the early afternoon.

Muggers steal man's phone in park assault

A MAN was punched in the face by muggers who stole his mobile phone and wallet.

The 23-year-old victim was waiting for a friend near the paddling pool area at Bush Fair park when he was approached by two men who asked him for a cigarette and to use his mobile phone.

When the man refused he was repeatedly punched in the face. They then stole his LG mobile phone, a black leather wallet containing £20 and a black Donnay rucksack.

Both attackers are white. One is in his late 20s, about 5ft 11ins tall and of athletic build, with short hair and facial stubble. He was wearing brown trousers and a brown or grey jumper and was carrying a football under his arm.

His accomplice was of the same age, 6ft 1in tall and of slim build. He wore a grey hooded jacket with the hood up and a bright blue bodywarmer over the top.

Anyone with information about the attack, which took place at about 12.20pm on Friday, September 28, should contact DC Paul Burnett at Harlow police station on 101.

Tell us which environmental projects matter most to you

I begin this column on a very sad note. My sympathies go to the family and friends of those who died and were injured in this week's tragic house fire.

I am sure the Harlow community will rally round to provide whatever help is needed during this difficult time.

Out of recognition of the impact this very sad event has had on the local community, we have postponed the public meeting which was arranged for this Saturday at the Latton Bush Centre to discuss residents' concerns about the use of Old Orchard pathway. The council apologises for any inconvenience caused and residents will be informed of an alternative date as soon as possible.

We know that living in clean and pleasant surroundings is very important to our residents.

We are soon to begin a £220,000 programme of additional environmental improvements jointly funded by the council and our partners, Kier Harlow. But first we want your views on what matters most to you.

We are asking you to choose projects from a list that you can get from your ward councillor or from our website at www.harlow.gov.uk/improveyourarea.

The menu of items includes bulb and tree planting, improving play equipment and putting up local information boards.

Let your ward councillor know before October 26 which projects you would like to see and they will submit the most popular ones for final decisions by the council. Ward councillor contact details are also available on the council's website.

Last week the council hosted the Harlow Youth Conference. It was organised by Harlow Youth Council, a locally elected group of 13-19 year-olds who speak on behalf of young people in the town.

Harlow secondary schools pupils explored topics including health, employment and planned changes to the school examination system.

It is inspiring to see them playing such an active part in society and raising aspirations for all Harlow's young people.

Elections for the youth council are coming up. If you are interested in taking part, email alan.webb@harlow.gov.uk.

Ban for owner of emaciated dogs

A DOG owner whose pets were found to be severely undernourished by RSPCA officers has been banned from keeping dogs for five years.

Darren Wilkes (44), of Long Ley, Harlow, pleaded with a judge at Chelmsford Crown Court that looking after animals could help him, but his plea was rejected and he was told he had come close to receiving a custodial sentence.

Wilkes had been found guilty at Chelmsford Magistrates Court earlier this year of causing unnecessary suffering to two dogs – a Saluki called Chino and a Whippet called Blue.

The court heard that RSPCA inspector Stephen Reeves had gone to Wilkes' home on January 9 this year after receiving a telephone call from a member of the public.

When there was no reply to a knock on the door, he peered through the letterbox and could see the two dogs looking underweight.

A message was left asking Wilkes to contact the RSPCA but he did not respond.

Officers then returned to the house with police and after forcing entry they rescued the dogs.

Wilkes had claimed in court that he fed the dogs but said a third dog had been known to eat the others' food. He accepted they were undernourished but maintained he had done everything he could.

Lynne Shirley, representing Wilkes, urged judge Rodger Hayward not to impose a ban, telling him that a psychiatrist had recommended that it would be helpful for Wilkes to have dogs.

But turning down the appeal, the judge said: "A psychiatrist recommended it would be helpful to have dogs but it doesn't help the animals because they suffer. These certainly did."

"The two dogs were severely undernourished. They were emaciated in a most appalling way and must have suffered."

The judge said that he would have imposed a jail sentence but for the fact that Wilkes had already served time behind bars on remand on separate charges of assault causing actual bodily harm and making a threat to kill, which in the end had not been pursued.

In addition to the ban on keeping dogs the judge also imposed a two-year community order with supervision on Wilkes and ordered that he should attend a thinking skills programme.

Teens answer conference call to voice views and quiz politicians

MORE than 40 politically-minded young people shared their views on topical issues at a conference organised by Harlow Youth Council on Friday. The local teenagers, who all attend secondary schools in the area, were invited to the event at the Civic Centre in a bid to encourage them to take a more active interest in the important subjects affecting their everyday lives.

Topics explored included young people's health, planned changes to the school examination system and youth unemployment.

A series of workshops were also held throughout the afternoon to encourage debate and discussion on issues including anti-social behaviour, cultural diversity and equality, jobs and educational opportunities for young people, sexual awareness and health education.

At the end of the conference the group were given the opportunity to pose questions to a panel of local bigwigs and politicians, including Harlow MP Robert Halfon, council leader Mark Wilkinson, Labour parliamentary candidate Suzy Stride, Harlow Chamber of Commerce managing director

Ian Hudson and councillor Emma Toal, portfolio holder for young people and citizenship. Afterwards, Councillor Toal said: "The conference was a huge success and enabled young people to put forward their ideas and opinions."

"Key local organisations and decision-makers could hear first hand what the important issues are facing young people in Harlow today."

"This conference also showed that young people in the town want to play an active part in society and help raise the aspirations and achievement of all Harlow's young people."

County police scrap horse section to save £600k

POLICE chiefs have confirmed they intend to axe the county force's mounted section in a bid to save £600,000.

The section is made up of nine officers, two support staff and eight horses.

It was only reinstated four years ago at a cost of £250,000 after originally being disbanded in 1998.

But top brass now say retaining the unit would mean axing the equivalent of 14 frontline officers as the cash-strapped authority attempts to balance its budget.

Overall the force needs to reduce its expenditure by £42m by 2014. This has already resulted in the loss of 807 posts across the county, including 324 police officers, 100 police community support officers and 383 other staff since April 2011.

Assistant Chief Constable Sue Harrison said: "We know that the public, police officers and staff hold the mounted section in great affection and the unit has provided great service over the years.

"However, the financial pressures we face need to be met head on and inevitably difficult decisions have to be made.

"The disbanding of the section will lead to approximately £600,000 of savings annually. The decision to remove these posts is part of the on-going planned reduction of police officer numbers over the four-year reform change programme.

"Officers based within the unit will take up new roles elsewhere in the force and staff members will be eligible for redeployment.

She added: "A detailed plan for the disbanding of the unit is now being progressed. If we were not to have taken this decision, then Essex Police would have had to lose an even greater number of officer posts from across the force.

"Securing a good home for the horses will continue to be paramount and we will explore all avenues to achieve this, including transferring them to other forces."

Kathleen's joy as TV documentary scoops an Emmy

By VICKY LANE

vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

IT was curiosity that led a Harlow woman down a career path which saw her scoop a coveted Emmy award in New York.

Producer Kathleen Fournier, formally of Cooks Spinney, was part of the HBO Documentary Films production team presented with the honour by the American National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences for 2011 documentary Reagan.

The factual narrative, which examines the political life of the late American president through a series of interviews and archive footage, faced strong competition, including entries from the National Geographic Channel and the Discovery Channel. But it won the News & Documentary Emmy category for "outstanding historical planning in long-form".

Kathleen (35), who currently divides her time between Barcelona and London, said the award had been a huge surprise.

"I was absolutely delighted as I hadn't expected it," she told the Star. "Reagan took three years to put together, although at the same time we were also working on The House I Live In, a documentary film exploring America's criminal justice system which was released in cinemas the same week as the awards.

"I think we were all so focused on the new documentary that we had almost forgotten about Reagan, so when they announced it as the winner it was quite surreal! To have the new film receive so much critical acclaim and receive an Emmy award in the same week was just fantastic."

Kathleen – who attended The Spinney, St Mark's and Mark Hall schools as well as Harlow College – said it was not until university that she began to consider a career in documentary filmmaking.

"I was studying English and American literature at Manchester University when I got a place on one of the BBC's documentary internships," she explained. "It was great. I got to travel around, meet loads of interesting people and for the first time thought that this might be something I want to pursue.

"I am a naturally nosy person, so to be able to walk into people's lives and listen whilst they divulge everything is quite fascinating."

After starting off with a small London film company transcribing interviews, Kathleen said a mixture of "luck and persistence" got her to where she is today.

"I have been very lucky in some respects and think it is a lot harder for young people these days to get into the field," she said. "However, if you are determined enough and willing to work your way up from the bottom then you'll get there. Someone has to!"

Regiment given freedom of town

HARLOW Council has shown its support for the Armed Forces by granting the freedom of the town to the Royal Anglian Regiment.

The honour was bestowed upon the RAR, which serves as the county regiment for Essex, during a special meeting of the council during which chair Maggie Hulcoop presented a ceremonial scroll to Major Martin Melia.

Cllr Hulcoop said the council had wanted to show its support and commitment to members of the Armed Forces who serve Queen and country.

"What an honour it is in taking this first step," she added. "I know that the council and town look forward to seeing members of the regiment marching through Harlow at a future date and time that is agreeable to them."

Major Melia said the honour would be "cherished" by the regiment.

"It is fine recognition for the difficult job our soldiers do in Afghanistan and other areas of conflict," he said. "The support, understanding and recognition of the people they serve is very important to the regiment.

"We hope we will receive a thundering

HONOUR: Major Martin Melia of the Royal Anglian Regiment receives the scroll from Harlow Council chair Maggie Hulcoop (s)

welcome when we are finally able to exercise our freedom by marching through the town with bands playing, drums beating, colours flying and bayonets fixed."

The singing mice that can squeak in tune

WE all know that mice can squeak - but researchers have now discovered they may even be able to sing in harmony like humans and birds.

Although male mice sing complex mating songs to attract females, it's long been thought they couldn't control their pitch - how high or low their squeaks sound. But now scientists have discovered that when male mice are housed together, they change the pitch of their songs to match each other.

While mice won't be auditioning for a part on next year's X Factor, the discovery has catapulted them to a new level of stardom in the animal kingdom.

They join just a handful of species able to adapt their sounds in this way. Other creatures with the special talent include parrots, whales, dolphins, bats and elephants.

Lead researcher Erich Jarvis told reporters: "This is an exciting find as direct control over the vocal neurons may be one of the most critical aspects in the human evolution of speech."

"Our results show that mice have all the features scientists associate with vocal learning."

But not all scientists are convinced by the team's findings.

Some believe it is too difficult to accurately determine the vocal pattern of mice as the squeaks they make are ultrasonic, meaning they are too high-pitched for human ears to detect.

Mum sets sights on marathon fundraiser

By BIANCA CASTRO
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A NOVICE runner is preparing to step up her usual 5k distance to a full marathon in a bid to find a cure for the disease affecting her daughter.

Amanda Warrilow, of Doulton Close, Church Langley, will be running the London Marathon next year to raise more than £2,500 towards potentially life-saving research into genetic disorder cystic fibrosis, with which her eight-year-old daughter Jenna was diagnosed at the age of four.

The 41-year-old, whose running history currently consists of two 5k runs, said taking on the huge challenge would be worthwhile if it helped improve treatment of the devastating condition.

"I really wanted to do something that would raise funds for the Cystic Fibrosis Trust, one of the leading charities for the condition, to help them continue their work in funding medical research," Amanda explained.

"Jenna was quite ill by the time she was diagnosed as it happened relatively late. There had been a lot of misdiagnoses but eventually everything kind of clicked and we were told she had cystic fibrosis. It was devastating news."

An autosomal recessive genetic disorder, cystic fibrosis affects internal organs – particularly the lungs and digestive system – by clogging them with a thick, sticky mucus.

Treatment for the condition, which is the UK's most common life-threatening inherited disease, is carried out through a mix of medication, physiotherapy and diet control.

"Jenna is doing really well on her current medication which she mainly only has to take outside school times," said Amanda. "She is hugely excited about my race and wants to join in. We're now considering a family race, though not until after the marathon!"

She added: "I'm very excited about it but also very nervous. I have watched the London Marathon for the last couple of years and always thought it would be an amazing experience as well as a good, big event to raise money with. I just hope I finish it!"

To help Amanda reach her fundraising target visit www.justgiving.com/Amanda-Warrilow1.

Helping to make life that little bit easier

PEOPLE struggling to carry out everyday tasks are being encouraged to find out what services and equipment are available to make life that bit easier.

The Harlow branch of national support group Epilepsy Action is hosting a special talk offering advice on what can be done to adapt homes and lifestyles to help less-able people maintain their independence.

Regional manager Marie Edgar explained: "If you or someone you know struggles with things like getting up from a chair or opening a jar, then this session will be really useful."

"Our speaker will offer sensible and practical advice on help devices and equipment available. There is no charge and there will be no sales."

The meeting takes place on Monday (October 22) at the Purford Green Community Centre off Tumbler Road from 7.45pm. For more information call Marie on (01708) 479536.

Hotel's spa offer for smokers trying to quit

SMOKERS trying to quit the habit as part of government campaign Stoptober are having their efforts rewarded by a Harlow hotel.

The Park Inn by Radisson, in Southern Way, is offering people who are taking up the national 28-day challenge to stop smoking during October a free day pass and health check at their newly-renovated spa.

Hotel sales and marketing manager Tracey Champion said: "This is a fantastic new campaign and we're proud to be supporting it."

"Shockingly, smoking accounts for one in four cancer deaths so it's vital that work continues to support smokers to quit. We hope local residents take full advantage of our offer during Stoptober."

Residents wishing to take advantage of the offer need to register at the club by October 31. For more information, call (01279) 829988.

A meeting for carers

CARERS in Harlow can meet others in a similar position whilst obtaining extra advice and support at a charity's annual general meeting.

Caring for Harlow Carers is inviting all carers in the area to join them for a light lunch at its annual meeting, which this year will include a guest speaker from the Olympics drug testing unit at GlaxoSmithKline.

The meeting takes place from 11am at The Link in Parsloe Road next Thursday (October 25) at 11am. Anyone wishing to attend is asked to call (01279) 308414.

Group tackles assault course in support of charity

A HARLOW charity is rallying support for a hardy group taking on a gruelling endurance challenge on their behalf.

The Annabelle Rose Foundation, which supports families affected by the devastating muscular wasting condition Spinal Muscular Atrophy, have expressed their gratitude to the team of 25 local people taking part in the Men's Health Survival of the Fittest challenge in November.

The group – which includes Odette Galea, Matt Law, Steve Burfitt, Tommy Hawkins, Helen Lam, Dan Cooke, Ciara Ramsay, Hayley Bamber, Michelle Webster, Laura Nelson, Liam Bird, Wayne Burfitt, Kathy Watkins, Lucy Pierce, Charlotte Carrferkey, Natalie Taylor, Danny Webster, John Sessions, James Campbell, Paul Perrin and James Wagitt – will each have to tackle 22 obstacles over a 5k assault course, including mud pits, pools of iced water and climbing walls.

"It has been amazing to have this group come together to do something for the Annabelle Rose Foundation," said founder Charlotte Burfitt, who set up the charity with husband Wayne in memory of their first daughter who passed away from the condition at the age of seven months.

"Everyone taking part has agreed to raise at least £100, so it will be a really big event for us. It is a tough challenge and I know the team are running a number of boot camps to train up so they are donating a lot of their time as well as working hard to fundraise."

She added: "It is absolutely brilliant and we want to say a huge thank you."

WHETHER you've offered to organise this year's office Christmas party and are looking forward to it or it has been delegated to you and you're dreading the thought of it, now's the time to get organised and arrange the event.

Whichever way you look at it, organising the annual Christmas bash for your colleagues is a big responsibility. You will want to achieve the balance of making sure everyone enjoys it and giving the company a chance to say thank you for the staff's hard work and commitment over the past year. Equally, you don't want the party to be remembered for all the wrong reasons such as disappointed guests.

The office Christmas party is not only good for team building and staff motivation; it is as much a Great British tradition as presents and the Queen's speech. Locally we have some fabulous venues where you can host your event and whether you're looking for a simple meal or a full blown party, there's plenty to choose from.

Before you start looking at venues, it's worth running through this checklist:

- Will it be a lunch or an evening event?
- When do you want your event to take place - midweek or weekend?

■ Is December the best time for your business or would January be a more viable option? Many companies hold their Christmas party in January not only because of work pressure in their own business but also it's often better value for money.

■ Look at past Christmas parties. What were the best and worst? Learn from any mistakes and build on the successes.

■ Does the boss want an exclusive venue solely for your group where they can make a speech, or are you looking to let your hair down with all the trimmings and formalities taken care of in a larger venue? Or a little of both? Arrival drinks and dinner (or lunch) can be spent with your own group then entertainment shared with others.

■ What kind of event did you have in mind? Is the plan a few drinks, something to eat and then dancing, or something different?

■ Do you need to arrange transport to and from event and more importantly how will you all get home afterwards?

■ Don't forget to keep within budget!

Once you have a clear brief you can book the event - or if it is still proving too much of a headache, why not hand over to a specialist? Event planners can even save you money in the long run.

MP helps Lions club to deliver lifesaver bottles

RESIDENTS at a sheltered housing complex in Harlow are among the first to benefit from a local social group's extended health scheme.

Members of the Harlow Lions Club were joined by Harlow MP Robert Halfon to hand out their Message in a Bottle kits to people living at Katherines House in Seymours.

The sets, which each contain a plastic bottle, medical form and stickers, aim to help save valuable time in an emergency situation by ensuring essential medical information is stored in one place.

"We were delighted that Mr Halfon could join us in distributing the Message in a Bottle kits to residents of Katherines House," said Lions club president Ronni Ayres.

"It was a very happy occasion and both Mr Halfon and the Harlow Lions Club are pleased that the residents are protected in the event of an emergency occurring in their home.

"Members of the emergency services, who are aware of the scheme, will now have immediate access to what could be vital and life-saving information."

County council to identify areas at risk from flooding

ESSEX County Council has taken on a new role in the management of local flood risk across the county.

The authority is now responsible for identifying areas across Essex at risk from flooding from surface water, ordinary watercourses and groundwater, as well as offering assistance to those who need it most.

The Environment Agency will continue to manage flood risks from the sea and main rivers.

County councillor John Jowers, cabinet member for communities and planning said: "This will allow us to identify areas that require assistance and offer necessary support to residents who may be affected."

In its new role, ECC is now working on the production of a Surface Water Management Plan for Harlow, which models the flood risk to the local area during severe rainfall by assessing at the lay of the land and drainage capacity.

Police e-fit clue to carjack thief

POLICE have issued an e-fit image of a man wanted in connection with a carjacking incident near the Harlow junction of the M11.

The incident happened on September 20 shortly before 7.45pm when the owner of a black Range Rover Sport was contacted by a man posing as a potential buyer of the vehicle.

The car owner arranged to meet the caller, who called himself Tony and claimed to work for international construction firm Skanska, at the McDonald's restaurant near the Hastingwood roundabout.

As it was getting dark, the pair then drove to nearby Epping Service Station as the suspect said he wanted to take a closer look at the vehicle on the garage's well-lit forecourt.

But when they got out of the vehicle the suspect jumped into the driver's seat and sped off as the owner desperately clung to the armrest of the passenger seat.

He was dragged along the road for almost half a mile before falling from the car, blacking out as he hit the road and sustaining severe cuts to his arms and legs. He is now recovering at home.

The suspect is described as about 50 years old and was wearing glasses and a yellow work jacket with blue writing on the front and rear. He had grey hair and was of chubby build.

Anyone who saw the incident or can identify the man from the e-fit picture should contact PC Paul Burnett at Harlow police station on 101.

Woman cleared of knife attack on her boyfriend

A WOMAN accused of stabbing her boyfriend in the back during a drunken row over a lost mobile phone has been cleared by a jury.

The prosecution claimed that Leesa Wenman punched Scott Offord in the mouth when he "patted her down" to see if she had taken his iPhone. It was alleged that she then attacked him with a kitchen knife.

But Miss Wenman told the jury she only hit her former partner in self-defence after he had bent her over the railings of the balcony of her third-storey flat in River Mill, Harlow, with his hands around her neck, a claim that Mr Offord denied.

After a three-day trial at Chelmsford Crown Court, the jury acquitted Miss Wenman of inflicting grievous bodily harm with intent during the incident on October 30 last year.

She was also cleared of an alternative charge of wounding Mr Offord.

Miss Wenman wept in the dock as the verdict was announced.

Giving evidence during the trial, Miss Wenman said she could not explain how Mr Offord was stabbed. She told the court she had not been holding a knife and had not stabbed him.

Mr Offord, a supermarket warehouseman, had told the jury that as a neighbour was dialling 999, Miss Wenman said: "Get up, you're putting it on."

He also alleged she then said: "I'm glad I  stabbed him. He deserved it."

Miss Wenman denied making either comment.

The court heard that the knife, with traces of Mr Offord's blood on the tip and sides but no evidence of fingerprint, was found by police officers directly below her flat about two hours after the incident.

Take your pick from 'menu' of community improvements

RESIDENTS are being given the chance to select improvements they would like to see in their neighbourhood as part of a £220,000 package of investment by Harlow Council.

Among the various suggestions being put forward by the council are gardening and planting projects, street clearing, upgrades to play areas, provision of youth shelters and the introduction of local information boards.

Residents can also vote for two town-wide projects – the creation of a new Town Park wood and the planting of a tree trail.

The one-off investment is being jointly funded by the council and its contractor, Kier Harlow. The money will be shared between all 11 council wards.

Jon Clempner, Harlow Council's portfolio holder for the environment, said: "We know the local environment is very important to our residents and this is a real chance for them to improve their area."

"We are particularly keen to hear from younger people about what they want to see."

A full list of improvements can be viewed at www.harlow.gov.uk/improvements.

Views must be given in person or by telephone, email or letter to ward councillors by next Friday (October 26). Contact details for all councillors are available on the council's website.

The most popular projects will be put forward for a decision on funding in early November.

Jack's in town for Playhouse's panto season

HARLOW Playhouse is preparing for its biggest pantomime to date when Jack brings his beanstalk to town this Christmas.

Featuring dazzling special effects, sets and costumes, the professional production promises a wonderful range of music and magic for all the family and features BBC children's television star Pui Fan Lee as Jack.

Joining Pui will be some of the UK's leading pantomime talent, including Nicholas Collett as Dame Trot, Tom Beard as Monsieur Loyal and Kevin James as Fleshcreep, along with the loopy Jez O as Billy.

Beautiful songstress Natalie Douglas also stars as Fairy Eco-Friendly, while Danielle Black, last seen playing Cinderella at the Playhouse three years ago, returns to play Jill.

Playhouse manager Scott

Ramsay said he was confident this year's panto would set new box office records.

"Our pantomime audience has grown by 55 per cent over the past three years and with the way sales are going this year it looks set to be another record-breaker," he said.

"We've pulled out all the stops to bring audiences a great cast, massive effects and lots of tricks and laughter.

"There are some new twists to the story which really add to the storytelling, we've assembled a hugely talented professional cast and chorus that's larger than ever before, and joining them will be two teams of local young performers.

"Both adults and children will be enthralled by the scale of the effects: I'm not going to say more than that for now as we'll spoil the surprises we have in store, but safe to say they won't have seen anything like it before!"

Jack and the Beanstalk opens at The Playhouse on December 7 and runs until January 6. Ticket prices range between £9 and £21 and group discounts are available. For more information, call the box office on (01279) 431945 or log on to the website at www.playhouseharlow.com.

Fright-bite horror is for adults only

By CHRIS MOSS

AUDIENCEs can sink their teeth into a Halloween fright-fest at Victoria Hall later this month as Harlow Theatre Company present a chilling new adaptation of the classic gothic horror Dracula. Strictly for adults only, the ambitious production is being billed as "more than just a play", with director Martin Colton using his experience of working in film production to give audience members the fright of their lives.

"We've been putting the play together since the beginning of September and we've all put a lot of hard work into making sure this will be an experience that people won't forget in a hurry," he told the Star.

"From the moment people walk into the theatre they are going to be immersed in the Bedlam Asylum. It will be an auditory experience as well as a visual one - and that is before the show even starts!"

The play is based on Scottish poet Liz

Lochhead's stage adaptation of Bram Stoker's classic novel. According to Martin, it is a version that stays refreshingly close to the original story but with a unique twist that only serves to ramp up the hallucinatory tension of the unfolding drama.

"The play centres around the visions and thoughts of Renfield, a madman who was once employed by the Count himself," said Martin.

"This is a tale of tragedy and the madness that comes with desire and power.

"Lochhead gives us this nightmare of a world where the line between sanity and insanity is difficult to distinguish." He added: "This event is not suitable for children and it contains scenes of blood, death, lust and desire."

Dracula opens at Victoria Hall Theatre in Bury Road, Old Harlow on October 31 and runs for four nights. Tickets cost £10 (£8 concessions) and can be reserved by calling (01279) 420062 or by emailing info@harlowtheatrecomp.org.uk.

Animal pals hitch a ride with a travelling circus

MADAGASCAR 3: EUROPE'S MOST WANTED 3D & 2D certificate PG, 1h33m

AFTER a lacklustre second instalment which saw Alex the lion, Marty the zebra, Melman the hypochondriac giraffe and Gloria the hippopotamus crash-land in Africa, Madagascar 3 rediscovers some of its animal magic.

A circus of performing critters provides the dramatic hook for the usual wisecracks, and a boo-hiss pantomime villainess generates much-needed dramatic tension.

Alex (voiced by Ben Stiller), Marty (Chris Rock), Melman (David Schwimmer) and Gloria (Jada Pinkett Smith) hanker for a return to New York's Central Park Zoo.

They leave Africa and head first to Monte Carlo to reunite with the penguins. There the gang has a close encounter with tenacious animal control officer Captain Chantel DuBois (Frances McDormand) and her scooter-riding cronies.

Seeking refuge on a circus train, they persuade Vitale the tiger (Bryan Cranston), Gia the jaguar (Jessica Chastain) and Stefano the sea lion (Martin Short) that they, too, are performing animals. Alex, Marty, Melman and Gloria nervously train alongside the professionals, knowing they must impress a big promoter in Rome in order to secure a booking in the Big Apple.

Madagascar 3: Europe's Most Wanted is undemanding escapism at its finest. The setting lends itself perfectly to 3D and directors Eric Darnell, Tom McGrath and Conrad Vernon have a ball contriving outrageous set pieces.

The camera swoops as Merman and Gloria teeter on the high wire, Alex tumbles acrobatically on the trapeze and Marty soars out of the barrel of a giant cannon.

Animals ricochet around the screen at dizzying speed and pyrotechnics explode to the infectious beat of Katy Perry's self-empowerment anthem, Firework.

Kids will love the slapstick and high-octane action but parents may find the tomfoolery as tame as the four-legged heroes. Eye candy is plentiful but there's an inescapable feeling that the flimsy narrative has been tailored to the 3D and the higher ticket prices commanded by the eye-popping format.

You could cheerfully distill the plot into 10 minutes – the remainder of this upbeat adventure is glossy, feel-good packaging adorned with rump-shaking musical interludes.

>>>still on screen

HOTEL TRANSYLVANIA Hotel Transylvania is a five-star resort run by Dracula (voiced by Adam Sandler) and situated far from the eyes of pesky humans. Monsters flock to the hotel for their holidays and Dracula invites some of his favourite guests to celebrate the 118th birthday of his daughter, Mavis (Selena Gomez). When wayward tourist Jonathan (Adam Sandler) stumbles upon the hotel, Dracula has to hide the human interloper from his guests. But once Jonathan's true lineage is revealed to all and sundry, he helps to dispel myths about humans and establishes deep bonds of friendship with his blood-sucking hosts.

TAKEN 2 Bryan (Liam Neeson) continues to be protective of his daughter Kim (Maggie Grace), who he rescued from Albanian kidnappers and returned home safely to her mother Lenore (Famke Janssen). When Lenore's current partner storms out, Bryan suggests that his ex-wife and daughter join him in Turkey for a few days of sight-seeing and relaxation. But little does the former agent realise that Murad (Rade Serbedzija) – the father of one of the Albanian brutes he killed in the first film – has amassed a small army to extract revenge on him and his loved ones.

SINISTER Novelist Ellison Oswalt (Ethan Hawke) moves to a leafy community with his wife Tracy (Juliet Rylance) and children Trevor (Michael Hall D'Addario) and Ashley (Clare Foley), but fails to tell them the previous owners of the house in which they will be living came to an unfortunate end and the sole survivor – a little girl – disappeared without trace. When Ellison finds Super 8 film footage in the attic, he delves into the case, enlisting the help of Professor Jonas (Vincent D'Onofrio) to unravel the mystery. In the process, Tracy and the children are targeted by dark forces and Ellison races against time to save the people he loves from the same ghoulish fate as the previous owners.

LOOPER Joe (Joseph Gordon-Levitt) is an assassin whose purpose is to gun down hooded targets sent back in time. Like his fellow assassins – or loopers – Joe knows his life expectancy is finite and one day he will have to gun down his future self. So when that day comes and Joe hesitates, he allows his future self (played by Bruce Willis) to escape. The race between hunter and hunted then begins in earnest.

PARANORMAN (2D) When a small town comes under siege by zombies, who are you going to call? Well if you've got any sense it will be misunderstood local boy Norman (voiced by Kodi Smit-McPhee), who speaks with the dead and is told by deranged uncle Prenderghast (John Goodman) he is the only person who can save the town from a centuries-old witch's curse.

FRANKWEENIE 3D & 2D certificate PG, 1h37m

VICTOR Frankenstein (voiced by Charlie Tahan) is an outcast in the sleepy community of New Holland, where he lives with his parents (Martin Short and Catherine O'Hara).

His only friend is the family's bull terrier Sparky, who has a crush on the pampered black poodle that lives next door with Victor's classmate Elsa Van Helsing (Ryder).

When tragedy strikes and Sparky is laid to rest in the pet cemetery, Victor is plunged into despair. But then teacher Mr Rzykruski (Martin Landau) plants the seed of an outlandish idea.

In the dead of night the boy digs up Sparky, constructs a machine to harness lightning and the dog is reborn.

Once classmates Toshiaki (James Hiroyuki Liao), Bob (Robert Capron) and Edgar (Atticus Shaffer) discover Victor's breakthrough, they plot similar experiments with their own pets.

PARANORMAL ACTIVITY 4 certificate 15, 1h27m

IN the leafy community of Henderson, Nevada, plucky teenager Alice (Kathryn Newton) lives with her parents (Stephen Dunham, Alexandra Lee) and younger brother Wyatt (Aiden Lovekamp).

When a single mother who lives next door is taken ill, Alice's mother agrees to provide temporary refuge for the sick woman's son, Robbie (Brady Allen).

Alice quickly realises that there is something peculiar about the new arrival and grows concerned by the control that Robbie seems to exert over Wyatt.

With the help of her boyfriend Alex (Matt Shively) who is a technical wizard, Alice rigs up cameras around her family home to spy on Robbie.

The Meaning of Service

Most estate agents see their role solely as a purveyor of buyers, and they understandably pride themselves on their ability to find the right buyer for a property and to negotiate attractive terms for the seller.

But estate agency has moved on. Indeed, finding a buyer is arguably one of the most straightforward aspects of selling a property. Wise sellers now seek other attributes in their estate agent.

We all know how emotionally traumatic a house move can be. Yet many agents fail to recognise their ability to reduce this overall burden by becoming thoroughly involved not only in the actual sale of an individual property, but also in the move as a whole. We feel this provides a great opportunity for the service-focused agent to deliver a level of customer service that really makes a difference. A service based on empathy. In other words, seeing the world through the eyes of the buyer/seller. With this vision, agents can then anticipate and proactively respond to the very real needs of the house-moving public.

An example of an obvious contribution that agents can make is a hands-on approach to any related property transactions, rather than blaming solicitors for any delay. A chain is only as strong as the weakest link, yet many agents sit back and wait once a sale is agreed. Madness!

So if you are to make your move enjoyable rather than simply enduring, choose an agent who believes passionately in supportive customer service. Choose Geoffrey Matthew Estates.

Hot hatch with wow factor

By Matt Kimberley

IN recent years there's been a bit of a lack of affordable cars that would make the average person look twice, but the wait is at an end. Welcome to the Hyundai Veloster Turbo SE.

It takes the somewhat unusual door layout of the known Veloster but adds a more prominent and aggressive set of bumpers, two fabulously huge central exhausts and side skirts to make teenagers weep with longing.

It looks absolutely stunning. Where the common-or-garden Veloster is a bit lacklustre to look at, the Turbo SE strikes a blow at the heart of just about every other hot hatch on the market. Where else can you get this much visual wow factor for this much money?

Large, two-finish alloy wheels and a larger, mouthier grille give it real attitude, which is then backed up by a new turbocharged 1.6-litre petrol engine under the bonnet. Pushing out a claimed 183bhp, the Veloster Turbo is among the lower-powered hot hatches on the market, but outright performance isn't what the car is about. It's designed as a usable everyday hot hatch and therefore has to tick a number of boxes. SE means Special Equipment, and there's plenty of it.

Fact File

Hyundai Veloster Turbo SE

PRICE
£21,995 on the road

ENGINE: 1.6-litre turbocharged 4-cylinder petrol producing 183bhp
TRANSMISSION: 6-speed manual driving the front wheels
PERFORMANCE: Top speed 133mph, 0-62mph in 8.4 secs
ECONOMY: 40.9mpg
CO² RATING: 157g/km

Leather seats with an embossed Turbo logo come as standard, along with an exceptionally clear sat-nav system operated through a seven-inch touch-screen interface.

You also get a reversing camera, which is a boon because rear visibility isn't the best. The navigation system brings an upgraded stereo system as well, with a more powerful amplifier and a subwoofer for deeper bass. The touch-screen makes the systems a joy to use and, combined with the way the Turbo SE drives, the 'everyday usability' box is well and truly ticked.

The four-cylinder engine is smooth from low revs, quiet and tractable thanks to a very broad spread of torque.

It encourages a perfectly normal driving style, almost as if it's pretending to be an i30 compact hatch. With only a few hundred miles on the odometer the engine feels a little tight, but it also feels like with a few more long trips under its wheels it will feel good for every bit of its claimed performance. It's fair to say it's not the most aurally exciting thing, but when the revs rise towards 6,000rpm there is a bit of a snarl.

Hyundai has firmed up the suspension to give a more controlled ride and the Turbo SE does enjoy corners much more convincingly than the standard Veloster. The steering could do with a little more feel but it's accurate and well weighted. It corners impressively flatly though, adding a real sense of dynamism that's boosted by the well-bolstered seats that keep front seat occupants from sliding around.

The left hand side of the car has two doors, the rear of which is designed to be as sleek as possible with the handle 'hidden' in the black corner panel in the window area. The aperture is a little restrictive because of the heavily sloping roof, but children – for whom the rear seats are really intended – will have no problems.

There are few optional extras, but a tilt and slide sunroof is available with any of the paint shades. For the first time Hyundai is offering matt paint, in a sort of military grey colour and for a very reasonable cost. It looks perfect on the Veloster Turbo SE but is a little trickier to maintain than standard finishes. Worth the hassle? You decide.

Efficiency was also high on the list of priorities for Hyundai in building this car. CO² emissions are pretty low at 157g/km, and official tests have brought up 40.9mpg on the combined cycle. That's good going for a car like this, and it seems more likely to get close to its on-paper figures than a few of its rivals because of the way it generally encourages steady driving.

Overall it's an undemanding car, this. You can stroke it along with the greatest of ease and get a swift pace up when the occasion calls, but dynamically it doesn't ask too much of a driver. It's exactly what it needs to be at this point in Hyundai's future history, and it's not a bad thing by any means. Very few cars will give the ownership satisfaction of something this bold-looking and yet so easy to get along with day to day.

Its trump card is definitely the way it looks. 'Wow' is a word that crops up often around it, and that's a big pull to potential buyers' hearts. The all-round ability and level of specification it boasts is more than enough to sway even the most level-headed customer's mind, and the result is a convincing package.

at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle.
That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD).
A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

Mackie is on dual registration with Evo-Stik premier division side, St Albans City.

He has also played for Bath City, Hayes & Yeading, Welling United and Gloucester City.

Chapman was pleased with all three new recruits.

He said: "Amin is decent in the air and will bring a lot of steadiness to the back four. It's a good signing for us."

"Hector has a fantastic eye for a pass. He is a massive plus for us and has a wealth of experience. He could be one of the best signings for me this season."

"Bowes has a lot of pace and is direct. He likes to cut inside and shoot. He can play up front or wide left and that will give us options. His signing will keep Piers Wixon and Jeff Hammond on their toes."

Jim bids to land deal with Orient

JIM McClelland, left, is hoping to win a nationwide competition – and play for his beloved Leyton Orient.

The 20-year-old defender, from Long Ley in Harlow, was shortlisted for a competition to win a professional playing contract with a Football League club.

McClelland, who has played for Harlow Town reserves, entered Samsung's 'Win a Pro Contract' competition to be signed up for either League One Swindon Town or Orient.

More than 5,000 players from all over the country applied. He was one of 360 that made a final trial in Surrey last weekend.

He got through an initial stage with flying colours.

McClelland, a student at the University of Herts in Hatfield, said: "When I saw an advert for the competition I had to enter. I've supported Leyton Orient all my life and this is a chance to prove myself to the club I love."

"I didn't think I'd make it this far. I want to show the coaches that I'm a strong defender who is good in the air."

He will find out at the end of this month if he has been successful.

Clapton lose in RFU Junior Vase

UPPER Clapton Rugby Club let a nine-point slip when they were beaten 23-12 at home by Ipswich YM (Young Men) in the first round of the London & South East section of the RFU Junior Vase.

Ipswich went 3-0 ahead from an early penalty.

However, Clapton scored two tries through Clinton Dorling and Tom Roberts on 22 and 45 minutes respectively.

Matt Thorneycroft kicked the second conversion and Clapton were 12-3 ahead.

Ipswich bounced back with a converted try on the hour mark before the Suffolk side kicked two more penalties for a 16-12 lead.

The visitors scored a late converted try to seal the win.

Meanwhile, Harlow were unable to field sufficient front row forwards and conceded their first round RFU London & South East Senior Vase tie match to Old Priorians.

Harlow hold on for much-needed win

HARLOW TN 1, OLD SOUTHENDIAN II 0 EAST MEN'S HOCKEY LEAGUE, DIVISION FOUR SOUTH EAST

OLD Southendian II are bottom but they made hosts Harlow work hard for their victory.

The goalless first half on Saturday was a tight affair.

Harlow's best moment came and went when Craig Cholerton raced away from the defence, but could not pick out team-mate and skipper James Smith for what would have been a simple tap-in.

The deadlock was broken by the home side in the 50th minute.

Forward James Munro latched onto a pass in the 'D' to fire a shot underneath the advancing goalkeeper, bringing his goal tally to three for the season.

The visitors piled forward and put the Harlow defence and midfield under real pressure.

Southendian came close to levelling with minutes remaining after a deflection from Ali Castle clattered into a post, but Harlow stood firm to record their first clean sheet of the season.

Harlow are seventh in the 12-team table.

HARLOW: Johnson, Castle, Plumridge, Grace,

Cox, Krzoska, Smith (c), Cholerton, Kirk, Mace, Munro.

WALTHAM FOREST II 1, HARLOW 1, ESSEX WOMEN'S HOCKEY LEAGUE, PREMIER DIVISION

THERE was little to choose between the teams with Harlow coming from behind to force a draw at Waltham Forest II on Saturday.

A goalless first half was marked by a midfield battle with strong tackles coming from Petra Trimble and Emma Tweddle to stop shots on the visitors' goal.

Harlow exerted strong pressure after the break before some excellent passing and movement from Waltham Forest saw the hosts go ahead through a shot from a few yards.

Waltham pressure was resisted before the visitors came back and equalised on 57 minutes.

An excellent piece of team work, which involved neat interplay, culminated in Beth Price firing home for Harlow.

The draw saw Harlow and Waltham Forest slip two spots to 5th and 6th respectively.

HARLOW (squad): Rowley, Ferdinando, Tweddle, Atack, Turner, Chambers, Shearman, Hanson, Thomas, Trimble, Smith, Byers, Price.

Free throw misses so costly for Hawks

HARLOW 54, LUTON 68
HERTS BASKETBALL, LEAGUE, DIV ONE

DEFENDING champions Luton Fliers proved a little bit too strong for Shab Niaz's Hawks, but certainly knew they had been in a match.

Harlow lost a couple of key players in the close season, so it will be a transition period for the team.

The visitors started well and put four swift unanswered points on the board, but Shab Niaz hit a trademark three-pointer to get the hosts up and running.

He was backed up by Lee Jones who finished two tough plays on the break to give Harlow a slender one-point lead.

Luton responded and found the gaps in Harlow's zone defence to lead 15-11 at the end of the first quarter.

The visitors came out in the second period on fire as they went on a big 15-0 run.

Their ball movement was too good for the Hawks and they opened up a 16-point lead.

Roan Lenihan came off the bench and provided some good offence while Rimantas Norkeliunas added seven points to cut the deficit to 10 going into the half-time break (28-38).

Hawks switched to a man-to-man defence in the third quarter. Russ Stonehouse and Norkeliunas did the damage on the inside as the Hawks put a 6-0 run together.

Harlow pushed on and got back to within four points before some poor free-throw shooting – eight free throws were missed – and this would have given the hosts the lead.

Luton ended the quarter 57-47 ahead.

The Hawks started the last quarter poorly on offence, again missing too many shots, a part of the game which has served them greatly in the past.

Luton continued to score freely, but the Hawks hassled and hurried and made them earn every point.

However, the home side just ran out of ideas on the offensive end.

Luton were 14 points ahead at the end.

Coach Niaz said: "I can't fault the effort, but it really came down to too many missed free throws."

HARLOW Norkeliunas (18pts), S. Niaz (13pts), Stonehouse (9pts), Lenihan (6pts), Jones (4pts), Moss (2pts), Haddow (2pts), Z. Niaz, Burgess, White.

Trio up for English finale

THREE boys from Harlow Athletic Club will approach the English National Cross Country Relays Championships on November 3 in good heart.

Eleven-year-old twins Lewis Harknett and Owen Harknett and Christian Barker (12) will go into the event at Mansfield in Nottinghamshire on the back of a bronze medal at the Essex County Cross Country Relay Championships at Hadleigh Park in Southend.

The 3km course was very hilly and muddy although conditions were very warm on the day, which made for tough racing.

Lewis clocked the 3km in 11 minutes and 15 seconds, followed by Owen (12.16) and Christian (12.15).

GREAT HOPES: Harlow youngsters Lewis and Owen Harknett and Christian Barker, far right, will head into the National Cross Country Relay Championships in good heart (s)

Harlow AC's cross country section manager Paul Bailey said: "The boys ran really well, fighting off tough competition from some of the best athletics clubs in the county. 'I'm really pleased for the boys. They are a real credit to Harlow AC and their sport and as their coach I'm really proud of them.'"

He added: "They will also be competing for Harlow in the Essex Cross Country League this winter."

FIFTEEN youngsters from Harlow claimed top three spots at the West Essex District Schools Cross Country Championships.

There were about 100 pupils in each race at the Championships, held at Harlow's Burnt Mill School last Thursday.

In the Year 7 (U-13) girls 2km race, Amy Whyte (Burnt Mill), a Harlow Athletic Club member, won comfortably.

Claudia Andrews (St Mark's), also an Harlow AC member, and Kayesha Robinson (Burnt Mill) were second and third respectively.

Three Stewards School pupils claimed the top three spots in the Year 7 boys (U-13) 2km race.

Lewis Harknett, a Harlow AC member, just edged home ahead of second-placed Alfie Poole. Owen Harknett was third.

Nine of the 15, who competed in older age groups (junior and intermediate age groups), also booked qualification to represent West Essex at the Essex Schools Cross Country Championships at Basildon in January.

The junior girls (U-15) 2km race was won by Rosie Poole (Stewards School). Jodi Ratcliff (Mark Hall) was second.

The junior boys (U-15) 2km race saw Mark Hall student Cnaan Solomon win comfortably.

Owen Armstrong (Burnt Mill) was third.

The intermediate girls (U-17) 2km race was won by Amelia Barrett (Burnt Mill), who was just ahead of Mark Hall student Alicia McArdell who finished second.

Meanwhile, Perry Rowan (Burnt Mill) won the intermediate boys (U-17) 4km race and Burnt Mill student Rian McKnight was second.

Mark Hall student Ben Pattison was third.

Event organiser Neil Coster said: "It's always a wonderful occasion when all of the West Essex schools come together for this event, and despite some challenging conditions we had some great performances. I really believe that the district squad has some county standard athletes in there."

Cruse in control

FIFTEEN Stort Valley Angling Society members competed for their annual Stort Cup.

First, with some fine tench and bream, weighing in at 16lbs, 10ozs was Danny Cruse.

Second place went to Tony Henson with a fine mixed bag of 14lbs, 3ozs which included an 8lb carp.

Two fine 2lbs-plus perch helped Steve Turnbull into third place with a 10lbs, 10oz haul.

Bough Beech Reservoir near Sevenoaks in Kent was the venue for the Harlow club's latest coach outing. Steve Beehan claimed top spot with a 36lbs, 4ozs net of bream, followed very closely by Gary Cruse just 6ozs behind on 35lbs, 14ozs and Bob Groom came third with 26lbs, 15ozs.

Top junior was Shaun Dodson.

GB ace makes Regan's day

REGAN Lawrence had a double reason for celebration when he competed in the Lee Valley Minithon.

The young Harlow Athletic Club member gained a silver medal – and then met new British sprint sensation and Olympics 100metre semi-finalist Adam Gemili.

Essex-based Gemili was only 18 when he narrowly missed out on reaching the final of the 100m at the London 2012 Olympics.

Following Lawrence's success at the QuadKids event in Harlow, he tested his talent against a large field at the indoor minithon held at the Lee Valley Athletics Centre in Picketts Lock, North London. His combined score earned him second place with his best performance coming in the 60m sprint, which he won in 9.4 seconds.

Harlow AC youth team manager Steve Lott said: "We can take a lot of confidence from Regan's performance and we'll certainly be encouraging more of our youngsters to compete more widely in future."

Murtagh breaks HRC record

RUNNING

HARLOW Running Club member Steve Murtagh produced a fantastic time of 1 hour, 13 minutes and 51 seconds in the Great Eastern Run, a half marathon at Peterborough.

He was 29th out of 3,431 finishers and second veteran 45.

This was a personal best (PB) time for the distance and broke the HRC Vet 45 record.

At the multi-terrain and very hilly Ware 10-mile race, 23 HRC members took part.

First home was John Tennant in 34th place out of 320 finishers and 1st Vet 60 in a superb 1:11.46. He was closely followed by Dionne Jones in 36th place (1st Vet 35) in 1:12.05.

Not far behind were Sean Flynn (41st in 1:13.49), John Bull (43rd in 1:13.57), Alan Cootes (56th in 1:15.04) and Jamie Luck (61st in 1:15.39).

The 14-year-old won three fights to secure his gold medal in the cadet category (U-53kg belt green tag).

He beat Nottingham Taekwondo member Kallum Shields 22-18 in the final.

Aston has been training for a year at the Harlow club and has fought in six competitions, winning five golds and a silver.

Three other medals were claimed by players from the club, based at Burnt Mill School, which thrived in the competition held at the Manchester Velodrome.

Oskar Gawron (14) and Jake Chisnell (10) were cadet bronze medalists.

Lee Beckwith (37) earned a bronze in a veteran category.

The competition was split into two days with categories of advanced (black belt and above) and novice (yellow belt to black tag).

silver medallist Jack Pickin from Stoke UTA Taekwondo.

In the last year Gawron has fought in six competitions, winning five golds and a bronze.

Chisnell competed in the cadet category (U-41kg).

He just failed to make his weight of U-37kg and was moved to U-41kg, putting him at a major disadvantage.

Chisnell fought two bouts and won one before losing 8-6 to eventual gold-medal winner Eden Massey from Ultimate Taekwondo (Doncaster).

Bronze medallist Beckwith competed in the veterans 80kg+ category (1st dan black belt).

He fought two bouts and lost in the semi-final by a golden kick to Trevor Durant from Danum TKD (Doncaster). This was after the fight ended 20-20.

Durant went on to lose in the final and ended with a silver medal.

New-look Hawks no longer on the Wrox!

HARLOW TN 2, WROXHAM O RYMAN LEAGUE, DIVISION ONE NORTH

By DAVID RIMMER

david.rimmer@hertsexsexnews.co.uk

THE Hawks' shaky run was halted as former Millwall forward Gary Bowes fired in two late goals to give his new side a vital win.

Bowes (23) whose football CV has included a spell at Portuguese club Louletano, played on the left wing and struck twice on 83 and 88 minutes against Wroxham on Saturday.

The victory came after Harlow had gone five games without a win, including three successive league defeats.

Assistant boss Paul West-Hook said: "He [Bowes] is so quick and he took his goals well. That win was much needed and it is not easy to come out of the rut we were in. We had conceded 18 goals in four games.

"We had become a reactive side, but we were pro-active today. We set the tempo but we still have things to work on."

Harlow also included two other new signings in central midfielder Hector Mackie (24), who has joined from St Albans City, and centre-half Amin Ibrahim, who is on dual registration with Hitchin Town.

Ibrahim (20) has rejoined the club after a spell at Barrows Farm a year ago.

With Harlow still short of centre-halves, Ibrahim partnered left-back Joe O'Donoghue at the heart of the defence.

A goalless first half saw Mark Taylor come close with an eighth-minute free-kick while Wroxham nearly scored nine minutes before the break when Ibrahim's miscued attempted clearance looped over Hawks keeper Bertrand Bossu and hit the bar before the hosts cleared for a corner.

On 25 minutes, Bossu's knees beat out a goal-bound shot from Wroxham's Angelo Harrop.

The visitors created second-half openings, but Harlow defended strongly and had the better chances with the tireless Jeff Hammond firing over on 65 minutes before Hawks finally broke the deadlock in the 83rd minute.

Piers Wixon passed across the box for Bowes to finish from 10 yards.

Harlow doubled their advantage five minutes later to put the game to bed.

A through ball from Mackie released Bowes who broke 30 yards before he tucked the ball underneath Wroxham keeper Michael Hilton and into the net.

West-Hook added: "It was a good performance and a good result."

"Hector Mackie had not played for three weeks and is unfit. He gets his foot in and passed the ball well."

"Stanley Muguo was immense for us. He won everything and was just so composed." HARLOW TN: Bossu 6, Taylor 6, Gill 6, O'Donoghue 6, Ibrahim 7, Muguo 8, Cooper 6, Mackie 7, Hammond 6 (Manuel 90), Wixon 7, Bowes 7 (Cranmer 88). Subs not used: Cass, Tamai. Att: 176.

Town's season of cup woe goes on

HARLOW TN 0, WITHAM TN 2
RYMAN LEAGUE CUP, SECOND ROUND

THE Hawks' poor cup run continued as they were beaten by Witham Town in the second round of the Ryman League Cup. Harlow Town had already been knocked out in the early stages of the FA Cup and FA Trophy before Tuesday night's reversal at Barrows Farm.

Witham went ahead on 23 minutes when a shot from the right side of the box by Sam Taylor beat Bertrand Bossu at the near post. At the other end, Scott Pethers cleared away a Jeff Hammond cross from the lurking Piers Wixon on 28 minutes.

Near the hour mark, Hammond appeared to be brought down by Pethers in the penalty box, but the referee only gave a free-kick.

At the other end a shot from the left from John Watson just flew past the far post.

On 65 minutes, Harlow's chance came and went. Hammond collided with Witham keeper Danny Sambridge outside the box after a through pass from Hector Mackie and the ball fell kindly to Wixon but he fired wide of an open goal from 40 yards.

The tie was sealed in the 82nd minute when Pethers' cross was headed in by Rob Whitnell at the left post.

A minute's silence was held prior to the game in memory of the Shakoor family, who died in a house fire in Harlow on Monday.

Ex-Lion roars to Hawks' rescue

FORMER Millwall striker Gary Bowes hopes to make a real impact with Harlow Town as he seeks to put himself in the shop window – and get back into the Football League.

Bowes, who turns 23 today (Thursday), scored two goals for Harlow Town in their 2-0 win over Wroxham on Saturday as Hawks ended their losing streak.

Bowes, left, who has also played for Faro-based Louletano in the Portuguese second division, is one of three new signings for Hawks boss Danny Chapman.

Harlow have also signed 24-year-old central midfielder Hector Mackie and re-signed centre-half Amin Ibrahim (20).

Bowes told the Star: "It was a good team effort and a much needed three points and that gave me more pleasure than the goals."

"Both goals were good team ones and it was a good debut for me. I want to do stay as well as I can and do as well as possible."

Bowes, who lives in Ilford, is a friend of forward Ben Jones who briefly played for Harlow last year.

The ex-Lions ace, who also played for England at U-16 schoolboy level, said: "Ben is a friend of mine and he recommended Harlow to me."

"I aim to stay as long as possible. The gaffer [Chapman] is good to me."

Bowes was linked with Arsenal as a schoolboy and then went to West Ham before he joined Millwall, but remained on the fringe of the first-team squad between 2006 and 2009.

He played for Louletano until his one-year contract ended in 2011.

Bowes said: "It benefited me quite a bit in that it was a different style of football out there."

"It was more patient and not so direct. The contract ran out and the club had financial problems."

Meanwhile, Ibrahim was part of the Hawks squad at the start of the 2011-12 season but left the

Tomas off to English Champs

TOMAS Stevens will represent Essex in the English National Inter Counties Swimming Championships at Ponds Forge Sheffield this Sunday.

The 15-year-old Harlow Penguins Swimming Club member, pictured right, will be competing in the backstroke race.

Tomas qualified after an excellent win in the 50metre backstroke at the Essex County Championships. He clocked 28.44seconds in the 14 years age group. In doing so, he broke a 10-year-old Essex Championships record. Tomas began swimming when he was six and has an impressive pedigree. He won gold in the 50m backstroke at the Essex County Championships at ages 9 and 10 in 40.11s and 38.11s respectively. Tomas previously gained a silver medal in the 10m backstroke in the East Region Championships when 10 years old. At age 11, he qualified for the English National Championships in Sheffield where he came 4th in the 100m backstroke in 1:11.45.

Tomas also competed at the prestigious Yorkshire venue in 2010 when he came 5th in the 100m backstroke in 1:07.70 at the English National Championships.

He did not take part in the Championships last year because of an injury. Previously he joined Hoddesdon Swimming Club after the closure of the old Harlow Pool.

However, he has returned to Penguins in December last year. It now trains at the Leisurezone.

Penguins spokesman Dean Holleyman said: "He is in good form. He is swimming well and training hard. He has a chance of getting a medal."
